Graduate Recruitment Film 2016

What do you do?

When someone asks you “what do you do?” wouldn’t it be nice to reply...

“I make dreams come true,”

I make post it notes into pension plans,

Houses rise from the ground

And technologies span the borders of these countries most people only ever talk about travelling to.

I find opportunities in unknown places

Make relationships with un-familiar faces.

The universe is expanding but I make the world feel smaller

You could say I’m an explorer.

I take control of every situation

At the centre of it all is my preferred location

Vocation and destination.

I’m a captain and I was put here to lead

In everything we do I make sure that we succeed.

When it comes to one on one

I get the job done

I’ll find solutions to the problems everyone else is running from.

Late night negotiator, ambition accelerator

You can call me the tailor

I connect people to opportunities

Across six continents and rolling seas

Call me a navigator if you please

I make sure your next step is in the right direction

And with every footprint comes a new connection

I am an architect of futures

A driver of change

A coach to anyone within range.

I am a woman, man, human on a mission.

It all comes down to that word ambition,

And regardless of my condition, permission, tuition or position

It is my conviction.

So that when someone asks “what do you do?”

My answer can start with making dreams come true.

But today no one’s asking, “what do you do?”

I’m asking, “what are you going to do?”
