

Get connected and collaborate

Speakers: Michelle D Walkes, Business Project Manager, HSBC Bermuda and Juliana Cole, Innovation Manager, HSBC USA

[Text on screen] Connectivity

The way we work is changing

The skills we need are evolving

Our ability to connect with others impacts our career

Michelle, Business Project Manager, HSBC Bermuda

“My job is to look at and solve problems with the lens of opportunity and create sustainable solutions based on HSBC’s vision and strategy. So I do this by bringing together diverse teams from all over the world to come up with solutions, share best practices and make great change.”

[Text on screen] How can you get more connected?

Understand your own behaviours

Step into someone else’s shoes to see things from a new perspective

Juliana, Innovation Manager, HSBC USA

“Just asking those basic simple questions with colleagues can help build that deeper relationship that can then allow you to work better, more closely, and more productively and collaboratively together.”

[Text on screen] Virtual collaboration tools help us work better anytime
anywhere

We use technology and our humanity to build new solutions together

We get things done faster as a team

And our connections with others drive better health, happiness and resilience

You already have these skills. How will you unlock them?

[Michelle] “So my advice for you to become more connected is to be bold, be brave, share who you are, be your authentic self.”

[Text on screen] Find out more at www.hsbc.com/growtogether